READY FOR THE VOTING

Hot Race For U. S. Senatorship Will Be Decided Saturday

This issue of the I. J. goes to press on the eve of the state senatorial primary with interest at white heat all over the state.

For the time being it is generally conceded by all but the most enthusiastic of the friends of the Governor, that the race is between Beckham and Stanley, with McCleary third. Friends of the latter, however, are unwilling to admit this, and are making extravagant claims of the gains he has recently made.

For the short term, it appears to be the general impression that Senator Johnson N. Camden will win by an overwhelming majority over Col. Beckham, H. Young and Hon. D. H. Smith, with his opponents floundering about in the order named.

Here in Lincoln friends of the three long-term candidates have left no stone unturned to get out a big vote for their favorites. The friends of Beckham claim that he will carry the county if his friends will come out to the polls. The McCleary men seem to be certain that they will carry it over Beckham, the race apparently resting between these two in this county, with Stanley having quite a following, who refuse to concede anything to his opponents.

So far it appears that the McCleary leaders are well supplied with money for "the boys" and as yet there is little Beckham or Stanley money in sight. With the prospects of "something doing" a big vote is expected to be out. Safe polls open at six o'clock Saturday morning and close promptly at four. Returns from all precincts in the county, and over the state will be received at the I. J. office as soon as the count is made.

Primary Forecast by Beckham Leaders

The primary will be under way by the time this reaches most of the readers of the I. J., on the following day, given as an estimate of how Gov. Beckham's campaign managers expect him to win.

With Louisville out, the minimum estimates are that Mr. Beckham will carry the state by 27,000. If Mr. Beckham has a plurality of 2,500 in Louisville his managers say his state plurality will be 30,000. All the figures given are made on an estimated vote in the primary of 125,000. If the vote goes as high as 150,000 Mr. Beckham's managers believe the latter's majority will approximate 40,000.

The statement, which will be found below, shows that every county in the state has been considered, and also shows that a landslide for Mr. Beckham in Eastern Kentucky has collapsed.

The statement by Mr. Beckham's managers follows:

Beckham will carry nine congressional districts, two counties, majority of 27,000.

Stanley will carry his own district and by a majority of less than 2,500. McCleary will not carry a single congressional district.

First District—Thirteen counties. Beckham ten; Stanley, two; one stand-off. Beckham's majority, 2,550.

Second District—Eight counties. Stanley seven; Beckham, one. Stanley's majority, 2,450.

Third District—Ten counties. Beckham eight; Stanley, two. Beckham's majority, 3,750.

Fourth District—Thirteen counties. Beckham ten; Stanley three. Beckham's majority, 3,000.

Fifth District—Stand-off.

Sixth District—Eight counties. Beckham six; Stanley, two. Beckham's majority, 1,300.

Seventh District—Twelve counties. Beckham ten; Stanley, one; one stand-off. Beckham's majority, 3,950.

Eighth District—Eleven counties. Beckham nine; Stanley, one. McCleary, one. Beckham's majority, 3,000.

Ninth District—Nineteen counties. Beckham sixteen; Stanley, two; one stand-off. Beckham's majority, 4,200.

Tenth District—Twenty counties. Beckham ten; Beckham's majority, 3,650.

Eleventh District—Fifteen counties. Beckham thirteen; Stanley, two. Beckham's majority, 4,300.

His many friends regret to learn that Bledsoe Bailey is quite ill at the apartments of his father, Judge James F. Bailey. Everything is looking fine after the good rains, which were so badly needed.

The Death Angel made a call at the home of Mr. Bryant Brown on Wednesday, July 22 and took away the loved companion and mother. She was born Aug. 25, 1849, aged 64 years, 10 months and 28 days. She leaves a loving husband and one son and six daughters, and a host of grandchildren to mourn that she is no more. All of her children were at her bedside during her sickness, except one daughter who lived at Henderson, Ky., and didn't get here until she was buried. She also leaves a loving sister at Plato, and one brother in Spokane, Wash. She was just sick one short week. She bore her sufferings with great patience. She would often say she didn't want to live for there was a better home than this for her. She was a good Christian woman, the pastor of the Christian church and loved by all who knew her. She will be widely missed throughout this community. Her remains were laid to rest at Mt. Zion to await the summons of the resurrection.

BRADLEY'S DAUGHTER

Writes a Letter Declaring Ernst Was No Friend of Her Father

Interest in the race between former Governor Angus E. Wilson and Richard P. Ernst, for the republican nomination for U. S. Senator has picked up wonderfully in the last few days owing to a bitter contention which has arisen between them and their friends as to which the late Senator Bradley favored to succeed him. The republican state machine is trying to nominate Ernst, but Wilson has many loyal friends. Most of the leading republicans of Lincoln county are for Willson.

An interesting development came on Tuesday when Mrs. Christine Bradley South, only daughter of the late Senator Bradley, wrote a strong letter to a friend of Willson at Covington, declaring that Mr. Ernst was not a friend of her father, and that he favored Willson. Mrs. South's letter which created a sensation in republican circles, was as follows:

Frankfort, Ky., July 25, 1914. Col. Charles M. F. Stricker, Covington, Ky.

Dear Sir—It is with extreme diffidence that I write you this letter, because as a woman, having no vote in political matters, my action may be misunderstood or misinterpreted. It is only because I feel so strongly that an injustice is being done the memory of my father, the late William O. Bradley, and because I have regarded you as having been a devoted friend of his, that I venture to write you at all.

For political purposes, my father's name is being improperly used. An attempt is being made to create a false impression among the Republicans of Kentucky. Because of these facts I have concluded to forego my feeling of diffidence and write you. I refer to campaign literature being sent over the state in the interest of the candidacy of Mr. Richard P. Ernst for the republican nomination for United States Senator, citing the position of father, my nephew and my cousin, Mr. Edwin P. Morrow, who is supporting Mr. Ernst, as being proof that practically all father's friends are supporting Mr. Ernst and the attempt is also thereby made to give the impression that his friends are doing what my father would have them do were he alive today.

Whatever my cousin Mr. Morrow's reasons may be for supporting Mr. Ernst, they are doubtless subsistent unto himself, but I do know that neither he nor any other person claiming to be my father's friend is supporting Mr. Ernst because of anything that my father may have said or done. It was well known to all those who were intimate friends of my father that he was strongly opposed to Mr. Ernst's candidacy, on the ground that after father received the unanimous nomination of his party for United States Senator in the legislative campaign of 1908, Mr. Ernst, though claiming to be a republican, opposed his election as Senator and sought to prevent it.

My father loved the republican party with all his strength of his ardent nature. He gave his life to his service. He rejoiced in its triumphs and shed tears of grief when it was defeated or divided. He did not treasure any resentment against Mr. Ernst for any personal dislike the latter may have had for him, but he felt that he would easily forget something likely to occur in the friction of partisan politics, but that Mr. Ernst could have permitted his personal feeling or his jealousy or whatever other motive may have incited him to cause him to attempt without proper cause to bring about the defeat of the duly nominated candidate of the republican party for such an important office as United States Senator was, in my father's judgment, a declaration of war against the republican party.

My father's claim upon the party for support for the nomination as a candidate for the Senatorship, but which would inevitably injure him, if nominated, and render him a weakling and ineffective member of the Senate. Often have I heard father express himself on this subject, and particularly, a short time before his death.

I am sure that if father were living today he would be found supporting the candidacy of Governor Willson, who for nearly 40 years has his loyal and effective co-laborer in the upbuilding of the republican party in Kentucky.

If this letter needs any added justification, permit me to say that I was reared in my father's faith; I, too, am a Republican devoted to the party's history and its principles, and deeply concerned for its success.

Trusting that you may not misjudge me, I have written you this letter, and understand and appreciate the spirit in which I have written, and with gratitude for your friendship for my father, I am, remain, sincerely,

CHRISTINE BRADLEY SOUTH

WAR BREAKS OUT IN EUROPE

Austria Against Serbia and Other Nations May Get Involved

THE LATEST

Austro-Hungarian troops are engaged in a bombardment of Belgrade the capital of Serbia, a report from Semlin stating that the city had fallen, though this report was not confirmed. The invading troops crossed the Danube and Savar River and turned their guns on the principal street of the city. Serbians sent an ultimatum to Russia, demanding the reason for its mobilization. It is rumored that Russia replied that the mobilization was partial and could not be stopped.

London, July 29.—Announcement of the declaration of war by Austria-Hungary on Serbia came Tuesday afternoon immediately after Germany and Austria had notified Sir Edward Grey, the British Foreign Minister of their refusal to join in a mediation conference.

It is assumed here that the efforts of the European nations will now be directed toward localizing the area of hostilities.

The actual cause of Austria-Hungary's decision to enter into hostile conflict with Serbia was the reply sent by the Balkan States to the note from Vienna demanding that Serbia take steps to put a stop to the Pan-Serbian propaganda on Austrian territory and to punish those Serbians indirectly concerned in the assassination in Bosnia on June 28 of Archduke Ferdinand, heir to the Austro-Hungarian throne.

The response of Serbia was considered by the Foreign Office in Vienna "unsatisfactory" and in a semi-official communication made public the Austro-Hungarian Government said that the reply was "filled with the spirit of dishonor."

In the meantime Sir Edward Grey took the initiative of requesting the European Powers to permit their Ambassadors in London to confer with a view to a peaceful solution of the controversy and to appear before a tribunal of the members of the Triple Alliance.

Germany refused, Germany supporting her ally in the contention that it would be undignified for a great Power like Austria to appear before a tribunal of the European Powers, on the same status as the little Balkan nation.

Austria-Hungary, in the interval had proceeded rapidly with the mobilization of its army. The entire railroad system was put at the disposal of the military and the telegraph system was virtually monopolized for Government business and a strict censorship was imposed.

Serbia also had mobilized her forces and had withdrawn the garrison of Belgrade, the capital, to the interior as the chief city of Serbia occupied a position too vulnerable to be held.

Every war office and admiralty in Europe was occupied in preparations for the members of the Triple Alliance, such as Holland, Belgium and Switzerland taking precautionary measures.

Then came the formal declaration of war by Austria-Hungary, on the 28th inst., to Serbia, and to the other two countries in which are Germany and Italy. The notification of the fact was sent this afternoon to the Serbian Government, which has its temporary headquarters at Kraguevatz.

At the start for the opening of the beginning of hostilities the decision to hold aloof from any scheme of mediation. The German Foreign office had said that a conference of the members of the Triple Alliance was not useful while "conversations" between Vienna and St. Petersburg were still in progress.

The attitude of Russia was watched carefully in official circles here and it was expected that the Russian Government would enter the lists in support of the little Slavie kingdom as soon as fighting started in earnest.

Fire Does $250,000 Damage at Louisville

Fire which started in the shed part of the Bourbon Stock Yards at Louisville Monday night, destroyed a third of that plant, 40 Louisville & Nashville railroad cars, some of which were loaded with oil, cremated 1,000 sheep, and consumed more than a score of cutting machines. All the fire fighting apparatus of the city was called out to extinguish the flames, which threatened to destroy the entire yards and buildings near by. The blaze was gotten under control after hours of hard work by the firemen. The origin of the flames has not been ascertained.

Local Boy on New Battleship

Lieut. R. C. Sauley, of the U. S. Aviation Corps, writes the following of a letter to the editor of the I. J.:

U. S. S. North Carolina, New Port News, Va. July 28, 1914.

Dear Shelton—

You will notice from the above that I have again changed my habitat. The "Old Mississippi" is now in the hands of the Greeks and by virtue of her new alliance has changed her name to "Neos." May luck go with her. She is a good ship but too slow for now-adays.

The Greek crew arrived yesterday, and with the assistance we are lending them, are making a little headway towards organizing the crew. Their officers appear to be men of zeal and intelligence, but the want of experience with modern ships is offering a great deal of resistance to the progress they would otherwise be making with their new acquisition. They will hoist their flags in a few days, after which the North Carolina will sail north for operations with the fleet.

As to the new aeronaustic ship—the North Carolina—we are extremely pleased. She is a large, modern ship of greater tonnage than the Mississippi and of far superior speed, all of which makes her better suited for aeronaustic work. We have with us now three hydro-planes, and expect two more upon reaching Boston. The crew consists of Able Biddle, Montgomery, Ross, Childress, Elizabeth Blain, Mary Ophelia Jeffries, Julia Allene Carpenter, Ann Katherine Spalding, Mary Jane Evans, Ann Nave, Messrs. Morris Montgomery, James Yowell, Jesse Burge, Edward Gibbs, Daniel Ruff, Fred B. Foster, Henry Phillips, Beecher Adams.

Dr. O. S. Williams spent Sunday at Danville.

B. W. Leigh, of Hustonville, bought of Peayhouse and sons a black bull calf for $20.

Miss Lucille Petrey, of Harrison, Tenn., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Foster for a month.

Lightning struck the barn of W. C. Myers on Fry's creek last Sunday evening and simply tore it all to pieces.

Aunt Polly Kaufman fell a few nights ago and received a badly broken leg and a dislocation of the hip joint. As she is at greatly advanced age, fears are that she may not recover from such a shock. She got up to get a drink of water and lost her balance and fell.

A severe hail storm visited a section of Casey county, south of here last Sunday evening doing much damage in part of the growing corn and tobacco. Some crops of tobacco were almost a total loss, while others were badly damaged. Some of the insurance men and some had none. One insurance man, Mr. Campbell had privilege on same Saturday evening to take some insurance out, but didn't do it and received a slice of the hail. Others that had insurance were promptly visited by Mr. Campbell and all satisfactory arrangements secured.

Miss Grace Good joined her sister Miss Sallie, at Louisville Saturday to go to Chicago, Ill., Detroit, Mich., and then to Canada for a few days. The whole trip will take about two weeks.

We had a glorious rain Sunday evening and everybody is now feeling lots better over the present prospects for a good corn and tobacco crop this fall. Emma McCormack, of Hustonville, sold Dink Jarman an aged work mule this week for $150.

D. W. Dunn has just completed the planting of over a bushel of bean seeds which are looking awful well. He will can them for later sales. Any one wanting anything in the way of canned goods will see him. He will have an up-to-date runner in operation on a few days, and ready to serve the public in any kind of work in this line.

Mrs. A. B. McKinney is still very feeble.

Harry Camnitz, of Danville, was here among relatives and friends Friday.

Mrs. Wm. McKinney is very ill with rheumatism.

The tobacco raisers are now very busy taking out insurance on their crops in this section since the recent hail storm.
